Introduction

1. The programme and budget proposals for 1994-1995 were submitted by the Director-General to the ninth session of the Programme and Budget Committee in document PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2. The regular budget proposals were prepared on the basis of zero real growth in line with decision IDB.10/Dec.7, while the operational budget proposals showed a reduction of 23.2 per cent in comparison to the 1992-1993 budget reflecting a reduced income expectation for the technical cooperation activities of the Organization.

2. After considering the proposals of the Director-General, the Programme and Budget Committee recommended a regular budget ceiling of $197,451,500 expressed at an exchange rate of US$ 1 = AS 12.90 for the biennium 1994-1995 (conclusion 93/4). In recommending that ceiling, the Programme and Budget Committee requested the Director-General to revise his proposals through:

(a) A review and adjustment of the revaluation of at least $1.5 million;

(b) Reducing the budget estimates by approximately $3 million by applying a vacancy factor of 7 per cent to Professional-level posts and effecting other economies, including, inter alia, measures in line with the recommendations of the External Auditor, and programme budget adjustments;

(c) A downward adjustment of the inflation estimates of approximately $4.3 million.

3. In addition, the Committee requested the Director-General to revise his proposals for the operational budget and to submit those revisions to the resumed ninth session of the Programme and Budget Committee. The restricted time available in which to prepare revised proposals did not permit the revision and resubmission of the complete budget document. The revisions to the regular budget contained in the present document reflect the reductions called for in conclusion 93/4 and referred to in paragraph 2 above, and represent a first step in the reallocation of resources within the Organization.

4. The resource allocations by major programme, programme and subprogramme outlined in the present document will be further revised. The second step will entail a further reallocation of resources with a view to strengthening the substantive capacity under the regular budget and effecting an essential reduction under the operational budget in the light of the most recent income estimates for 1994-1995. That reallocation of regular budget funds will be made within the resource levels indicated in this document for the regular budget expressed at 1993 rates and within the ceiling recommended by the Programme and Budget Committee at its ninth session. Those revisions will be contained in an addendum to the present document to be issued shortly before the resumed ninth session of the Committee.

5. The revisions proposed in the present document should be read in conjunction with the proposals contained in document PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2. Tables, annexes and financial schedules are included in the present document to indicate the overall revised level of resource requirements for the 1994-1995 biennium. Subject to the approval of revised budget proposals by the Committee and subsequently by the Board, a consolidated programme and budget document comprising PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2 as revised will be submitted to the General Conference at its fifth session.

I. REGULAR BUDGET

6. The revised regular budget estimates for the biennium 1994-1995 amount to a net figure of $196,933,200, which comprises gross expenditures of $231,895,800 and income (including cost reimbursement) of $34,962,600. The revised estimates represent a reduction in net resource levels for 1994-1995 of $9,282,500 or 4.5 per cent compared with the estimates contained in PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2.

Comparison with previous biennium

7. A comparison of the approved programme and budgets for 1992-1993 and the revised regular budget proposed for the biennium 1994-1995 is shown in the following table. The figures are cited for expenditures (gross), income and net (expenditures less income).

a/ Update of table in paragraph 24, PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2.

8. The regular budget now shows negative resource growth of $2,996.8 or 1.6 per cent for UNIDO as a whole. The real resource growth (positive and negative) by major programme is shown below. The figures under the net column in parentheses represent negative resource growth.

b/ Assessment of Member States.

10. The revised estimates for 1994-1995 of $196,933,200 are within the ceiling of $197,451,500 recommended by the Programme and Budget Committee in its conclusion 93/4. The following table shows the variation under the three specific headings identified by the Committee:

Comparison of revised regular budget estimates with PBC conclusion 93/4 (paragraph (e))
(In thousands of dollars)

	Conclusion 93/4	Revised estimates	Variation
Revaluation of 1992-1993 budget at 1993 rates	1,500.0	1,560.3	60.3

Reduction in 1994-1995 estimates	8,800.0	9,282.5	482.5

Revaluation of budgetary base (reduction of $1,560,300)

11. The adjustments to the revaluation of the budgetary base have been effected by a reduction in salary standard costs expressed at 1993 rates for Professional and General Service posts. A review of the standard salary costs revealed that certain increases anticipated in the 1992-1993 budget are not expected to be realized in full and the salary standard costs have been adjusted downward accordingly.

The estimates contained in PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2 of $5,897,600 have been reduced to a net figure of $4,337,300, yielding a reduction of $1,560,300.

12. The financial details of the revaluation process are summarized below:

a/ Update of table in paragraph 35, PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2.

Revision of 1994-1995 resource growth at 1993 rates (reduction of $2,996,800)

13. The implementation of PBC conclusion 93/4, paragraph (e)(ii) has resulted in a net reduction in resources in 1994-1995 over 1992-1993 at 1993 rates of $2,996,800, representing a negative real growth of 1.6 per cent. As can be seen in the table on page 6, this reduced level of resources comprises: (a) adjustment of the original 1994-1995 resource growth of ($8,200); (b) $1,594,300 achieved by increasing the Professional-level post vacancy factor from the standard 5 per cent to 7 per cent; and (c) other resource reductions of $1,410,700.

14. In revising the 1994-1995 estimates, the Director-General has concentrated on effecting reductions in non-staff costs placing particular emphasis on economies in administrative support services. A review has been made of the proposals for the provision of consultancy services with a view to effecting reductions through greater use of in-house expertise. The estimates for travel have also been revised downward in anticipation of a heightened resource efficiency through a more coordinated approach and improved planning. Of the other resource reductions of $1,410,700, $763,600 or 54.1 per cent have been made in major programmes 100 (EPL and PMO), 700 (VIC-related Services) and 800 (Administration).

15. A detailed description of the adjustment in resource levels of $1,410,700 (excluding the adjustment in the vacancy factor of 2 per cent in Professional-level salaries) is given in annex I by object of expenditure at the subprogramme level.

Revised 1994-1995 resource requirements at 1993 rates (reduction of $4,557,100)

16. The revised resource requirements at 1993 rates for UNIDO as a whole and by major programme and programme, together with a comparison with the resource requirements contained in document PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2 is presented in the table on page 7.

a/ From annex C, table 2, PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2

Inflation and other cost increase adjustments (reduction of $4,725,400)

17. The amount required to offset the effects of inflation and other cost increases anticipated for 1994-1995 is estimated at $16,329,900, representing an average compounded rate of 5.9 per cent per annum.

18. An adjustment of the inflation and other cost increase rates has been made on the basis of: (a) the most recent (May 1993) consumer price and wage index levels forecast in Austria for 1994 and 1995; (b) a revision of the expected statutory changes in salaries and common staff costs; and (c) information obtained from other United Nations organizations providing services to UNIDO at the Vienna International Centre.

19. Projections have been made of salary standard costs for the biennium 1994-1995 that reflect anticipated cost increases. For Professional salaries an increase of 5.6 per cent per annum is expected comprising movements in the consumer price index leading to increases in post adjustment rates, provision for in-grade increments and anticipated base salary increases. For General Service salaries an increase of 5.4 per cent per annum is anticipated. This is made up of a 3.6 per cent increase resulting from combined consumer price index and wage index movements adjusted for taxation and a provision for within-grade increments and promotions. The projections anticipate a reduction of half the language adjustment factor (from 4 per cent to 2 per cent) subsequent to the 1995 International Civil Service Commission salary survey, which is expected to result in the incorporation of this adjustment in General Service salaries.

20. Common staff costs have been estimated for 1994-1995 at 38 per cent of net salaries. The increase in the percentage over the 1992-1993 budgeted rate of 36.2 per cent of net salaries derives in part from increases in Pension Fund contributions due to annual adjustments in the pensionable remuneration for Professional-level staff. In addition, increases have arisen in separation payments, repatriation grants, termination indemnities, social security payments, education grants and dependency and hardship allowances.

Income

21. The estimates of regular budget income for 1994-1995 also change following the revaluation of salary standards, reduction in resource levels for cost-shared activities and the adjustment in inflation and other cost increases.

22. A revision of the table in paragraph 44 of PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2 is as follows:

Summary of income estimates
(In thousands of dollars)

II. OPERATIONAL BUDGET

Income

23. For the 1994-1995 biennium the income estimates of $43.9 million contained in document PBC.9/2-IDB.11/2 have been revised downward to a level of $40.5 million.

24. In the past, the reimbursement of support costs was directly related to the volume of projects executed, owing to the fact that support costs were calculated as a percentage (usually 13 per cent) of the value of projects involved. This method of calculation was generally applied to all sources of project funding, including UNDP. However, for UNDP financed activities five major agencies (United Nations Department for Economic and Social Development, International Labour Organisation, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and UNIDO) are now reimbursed according to a new regime established by UNDP under the successor arrangements for agency support costs. These comprise three modalities of reimbursement: technical support services at the programme level (TSS-1), technical support services at the project level (TSS-2) and administrative and operational support services (AOS). For the fifth UNDP programming cycle, whose total resource allocation is expected to be reduced by 25 per cent at the June 1993 session of the UNDP Governing Council, the five agencies involved will draw on some $64 million for TSS-1 activities and up to $59 million for TSS-2 activities. For AOS activities, 10 per cent of the total reduced IPF has been set aside and is available as an additionality to the indicative planning figure (IPF) for recipient countries.

25. The new regime, which was planned to enter into force in January 1992, took longer than anticipated to establish itself. Whereas the volume of UNDP projects under the old regime has diminished as expected, the gamut of activities foreseen under the new regime has not yet materialized to offset that diminution. The loss of income might have been worse had legislation not provided certain funding under the old regime for the transition period while some income has been generated under the TSS-1 modality.

26. Even though the income derived from TSS-2 and AOS activities is expected to increase in 1994-1995, the overall UNDP support cost income estimates have been deliberately kept at a conservative level. For technical cooperation activities funded from non-UNDP sources, the prospects for 1994-1995 under the Industrial Development Fund point to steady growth, while trust fund and other activities are expected to increase through the identification of new donors and adoption of innovative approaches.

27. The income estimates are based on: (a) support costs derived from the value of current projects expected to continue in 1994-1995 (UNDP old regime and other funds); (b) support costs under the new UNDP arrangements; (c) expectations regarding non-UNDP projects at the planning stage or in the pipeline; and (d) general trends in the levels of technical cooperation activities expected in 1994-1995. Details relating to technical cooperation delivery and income estimates are shown in table 1(c).

28. In addition to the reimbursement of programme support costs, an estimate is included for miscellaneous income from interest on deposits anticipated during the biennium.

Expenditures

29. In order to remain within the estimated income level of $40,500,000 and to restore, in part, the operational budget reserves in 1994-1995, the budget expenditure levels expressed at an exchange rate of US$ 1 = AS 12.90 have been set at a maximum level of $35,300,000.

30. Within that overall figure, it will be necessary to adjust the operational budget resource allocations by programme and subprogramme. In view of the time constraints experienced in preparing the present document, it would appear at this juncture more appropriate to present the revised operational budget expenditures for 1994-1995 for the Organization as a whole. That overall figure would represent an expenditure ceiling of $35,300,000.

31. The specific allocation of resources by programme and subprogramme will be provided in detail allocations in the second round of revisions referrd to in paragraph 4 of the present document. The main principle governing those revision will be one of preserving those activities which directly support technical cooperation and generate extrabudgetary resources. This will necessitate the further redeployment of resources under the regular budget without, however, increasing the overall level of regular budget resource requirements indicated in the present document.

32. A comparison of the operational budget for 1992-1993 and that proposed for the biennium 1994-1995 is shown in the following table.

Operational budget: comparison of 1992-1993 with 1994-1995 a/

III. ACTION REQUIRED OF THE COMMITTEE

33. The Committee may wish to take note of the revisions to the regular and operational budgets contained in the present document.

Annex I

RESOURCE ADJUSTMENTS

MAJOR PROGRAMME 100: POLICY-MAKING ORGANS, EXTERNAL RELATIONS, PUBLIC INFORMATION, LANGUAGE AND DOCUMENTATION SERVICES

Total reduction: $266,800

Staff ($102,400)

1. The additional GS post (audio-visual cameraman/editor) originally foreseen for programme 150 and redeployed from REL/GVA has been deleted ($102,400) as the services have since been secured through in-house redeployment in the present biennium.

Travel ($39,500)

2. Travel has been reduced overall by $39,500 in subprogrammes 131, 132 and 133. The largest reduction ($35,200) in the UNIDO Office at New York, reflecting a major curtailment in travel to Canada over the biennium, with lesser reductions of $2,300 in External Liaison and Protocol and $2,000 in the UNIDO Office at Geneva respectively.

Other ($124,900)

3. Overtime has been reduced by $17,000 in subprogramme 112 and by $3,900 in subprogramme 114. It is proposed that all three policy-making organs reduce by $17,300 their general temporary assistance requirements which will be met by using in-house resources. Consequently, subprogramme 112 shows a reduction of $5,700, subprogramme 113 a reduction of $5,800 and subprogramme 114 a reduction of $5,800.

4. Other resource adjustments relate to a reduction in communications costs in subprogrammes 132 and 133 totalling $15,200 to be achieved through the more economic use of telecommunication facilities, as well as to a reduction of $4,600 in hospitality costs in the same two subprogrammes. Supplies and materials will also be reduced in subprogramme 132 by $2,000, while the rental and maintenance of furniture and equipment for the General Conference shows a reduction of $4,900.

5. In subprogramme 142 a reduction of $60,000 is proposed in respect of the costs related to the rental and maintenance of photocopying equipment, thus bringing the total cost for the biennium ($540,000) close to the costs incurred in the current two-year period.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 200: GENERAL MANAGEMENT

Total reduction: $46,000

Other

6. The overall reduction of $46,000 in subprogramme 211 has been achieved by reducing overtime by $16,000 and general temporary assistance by $30,000. The revised allocations will still provide adequate resources for the replacement of staff on extended sick or maternity leave, as well as for the maintenance of support services during peak work periods well beyond normal working hours.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 300: PROGRAMME AND PROJECT DEVELOPMENT

Total reduction: $146,300

Consultants ($56,300)

7. Consultancy resources have been reduced overall by $56,300, with programme 310 accounting for $15,000. This latter reduction relates to a diminution of the consultancy input to the work on design and appraisal methodologies in subprogramme 312.

8. In programme 330, it is proposed to reduce consultancy resources by $25,000. In subprogramme 331, the proposed reduction of $5,900 will entail a reduction in the scope of the consultants' input to the preparation of technical cooperation programmes at the national, subregional and sectoral levels. Similarly, in subprogramme 333, the proposed reduction of $6,700 will impinge on the consultants' input to the preparation of technical papers related to national and regional frameworks, as well as the special programme for the region. In subprogramme 334, the proposed reduction of $5,000 will reduce by some 25 per cent the scope of consultancy work envisaged for the conduct of surveys on industrial constraints, potential competitiveness and other subjects in the countries in transition. In subprogramme 337, the proposed reduction of $7,400 will entail the cancellation of consultant services related to the preparation of analytical papers on the status of industrial development in the least developed countries within the context of the industrial action programme drawn up for those countries.

9. In programme 340, a reduction of $16,300 is proposed, with subprogramme 341 absorbing a reduction of $10,000 that will entail a slight curtailment in the specialist contributions to the Global Report. In subprogramme 343, a reduction of $6,300 has been proposed which will impact on the external consultant input to the development and improvement of the statistical database.

Travel ($20,000)

10. Travel resources have been reduced overall by $20,000. It is proposed to restrict the reduction to programme 340. Travel funds for subprogramme 341 will be reduced by $4,000, thus decreasing the number of field missions related to monitoring developments in international industrial restructuring. In subprogramme 342, it is proposed to reduce travel resources by $7,000, thus reducing participation in preparatory assistance/programming missions, while a similar reduction in subprogramme 343 will impact on attendance at meetings and seminars dealing with methods of data storage and the development of software for use in industrial censuses, as well as meetings related to the exchange of statistical information. In subprogramme 344, a reduction of $2,000 has been proposed.

Ad hoc expert group meetings ($53,000)

11. It is proposed to reduce meeting funds overall by $53,000. A reduction of $10,000 has been proposed for subprogramme 312, thus diminishing the number of participants in the expert group meeting to be held on the methodological aspects of programme and project design. In subprogramme 335, it is proposed to secure alternative extrabudgetary funding for the regional meeting on the identification of specific requirements at the sectoral level within the framework of the Regional Cooperation Programme for the Industrial Recovery of Latin America and the Caribbean that is costed at $35,000. In subprogramme 341, it is proposed to halve the number of expert group meetings devoted to assessing economic and industrial prospects for major developed and developing countries, thus securing savings of $8,000.

Other ($17,000)

12. General temporary assistance for the major programme as a whole has been reduced by $10,000 in subprogramme 311. It is further proposed to reduce the printing requirements of programme 340: a reduction of $7,000 has thus been made in subprogramme 344.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 400: INDUSTRIAL PROMOTION, CONSULTATIONS AND TECHNOLOGY

Total reduction: $155,000

Consultants ($135,000)

13. Consultancy resources have been reduced overall by $135,000, with Industrial Investment accounting for $46,600. In subprogramme 421, the reduction amounts to $40,600. Its impact on the output of three regional programme units - Asia and the Pacific, Latin America and the Caribbean and Arab Countries, Europe and the Mediterranean - is reflected in a reduction in the scope of various consultancy services. In the regional programme for Asia and the Pacific, the reduction also entails cancellation of the follow-up investment programme for the Democratic People's Republic of Korea. In subprogramme 423, a proposed reduction of $6,000 has resulted in the diminution of work-months available for drawing up curricula for training workshops.

14. In the System of Consultations the total reduction is $65,000. This has been achieved by reducing consultancy services in subprogramme 431 by $12,000, in subprogramme 432 by $13,000, in subprogramme 433 by $15,000, in subprogramme 434 by $3,000 and in subprogramme 435 by $22,000. Although this will entail reductions ranging from 10 to 30 per cent of the consultancy resources allotted to the various studies to be conducted under the various subprogrammes, none of the studies contained in the original proposals has been cancelled, with the exception of a study on the ways and means of facilitating synergy with other units and divisions in the Secretariat.

15. In Technology Development and Promotion the total reduction under this heading is $23,400. In subprogramme 441, the proposed reduction of $5,000 entails a cutback in the number of publications and the cancellation of the sectoral dossiers. In subprogramme 442, the proposed reduction of $5,000 will bring about a diminution of the scope of the studies on technology transfer trends and new forms of technology transactions. In subprogramme 443, the proposed reduction of $13,400 will impinge on the extent of certain outputs related to informatics and new technologies, while a study on the reactivation of UNIDO publications related to appropriate technologies will be dropped.

Travel ($20,000)

16. Travel has been reduced by $20,000 overall. In subprogramme 423, the proposed reduction of $5,000 will affect the frequency of missions related to the identification of additional training needs in the area of project preparation and appraisal. In subprogramme 435, the proposed reduction of travel funds by $10,000 will entail a reduction in travel to service meetings and promote the System of Consultations in discussions with international and other organizations. In subprogramme 441, it is proposed to reduce by $5,000 staff travel associated with the promotion of the INTIB network, the installation of databases and participation in meetings convened by other organizations.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 500: INDUSTRIAL OPERATIONS

Total reduction: $93,100

Consultants ($73,100)

17. It is proposed that the consultancy requirements for programme 520 be reduced by $37,600. A reduction of $5,000 is proposed for subprogramme 521, thus reducing the consultant input to the study on waste and residue management technology for the leather industry. In subprogramme 522, a reduction of $18,100 is proposed: this will curtail the consultant input to the six studies envisaged under the subprogramme which, however, will be conducted as scheduled. A reduction of $5,600 is proposed for subprogramme 523, thus reducing the scope of the consultants' contributions to the documentation on technological and environment-related subjects envisaged by the subprogramme. In subprogramme 524, a reduction of $8,900 is proposed which will necessitate contraction (but not cancellation) of the four studies envisaged in the subprogramme.

18. The proposed consultancy reduction in programme 530 is $20,100. A reduction of $18,100 is proposed in subprogramme 532 entailing a reduction in the consultant input to the three studies envisaged on specific aspects of rural development, industrial estates and privatization, as well as to the manual on industrial subcontracting and partnership. In subprogramme 533, the proposed reduction of $2,000 will impact slightly on the consultant input into the review and finalization of a manual on enterprise diagnostics and turn-around techniques.

19. In programme 540 it is proposed that consultancy funds be reduced by $15,400. In subprogramme 541 the proposed reduction of $11,200 will impinge on the scope of the issue papers and related documents to be presented to two expert group meetings scheduled for the biennium. A reduction of $4,200 is proposed for subprogramme 542, thus curtailing the consultants' contribution to the revision and updating of the Handbook for UNIDO Field Staff and the PRAS Manual, as well as the forecasting of project expertise requirements.

Other ($20,000)

20. Overtime has been reduced by $10,000 in subprogramme 513 and general temporary assistance by $10,000 in subprogramme 525.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 600: COMMON PROGRAMMES

Total reduction: $206,700

Consultants ($52,000)

21. It is proposed that the consultancy appropriation for programme 620 be reduced by $52,000, equivalent to the resources needed to finance the services and subsistence allowances of four consultant work-months. This will slightly reduce the scope of studies related to the development of composite flours, the technical, commercial and financial viability of regional transport equipment plants and the preparation of multi-year implementation plans within the context of national and subregional IDDA programmes.

Other ($154,700)

22. The resource base of programme 610, which is equivalent to 6 per cent of the total of the regular budget, has been reduced by $84,700 in line with the overall reduction of $1.4 million. The short-term technical advisory services component in programme 620 has been reduced by $70,000 or seven work-months. This will have a minor impact on the overall magnitude of the services under this heading which are aimed at supporting technical cooperation activities and increasing the implementation of national and subregional programmes, with special emphasis on agro-industries, transport, communication and telecommunications. In order to ensure an immediate response and a high degree of flexibility, the experts providing the short-term technical advisory services will be hired as staff members or consultants as appropriate.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 700: VIENNA INTERNATIONAL CENTRE (VIC) RELATED SERVICES

Total reduction: Gross - 818,600
Income - 560,000
Net - 258,600

23. All the reductions net of income proposed for this major programme fall under the heading of "other" items of expenditure.

General temporary assistance ($800)

24. The revaluation of the salary standard costs resulting in lower costs had an impact on the proposed conversion from general temporary assistance to established posts of two General Service posts increasing the remaining temporary assistance funds by $800 (gross $2,400 less income $1,600).

Repair and maintenance of premises ($126,400)

25. This object of expenditure has been reduced overall by $126,400 (gross $400,000 less income $273,600). The reductions are limited to programme 710 and entail the deferral of work related to: (a) installing foils to deflect sunbeams and improve working conditions in certain offices; (b) maintaining green areas; and (c) general maintenance work including replacement of worn systems and spare parts.

Utilities ($91,600)

26. The proposed reduction under this heading amounts to $91,600 (gross $290,000 less income $198,400) and is likewise limited to programme 710. This proposed decrease is based on the achievement of economies in the current biennium which will be continued throughout the biennium 1994-1995.

Supplies and materials ($41,400)

27. It is also proposed to reduce supplies and materials in programme 710 by $41,400 (gross $131,000 less income $89,600). As with the resource reductions proposed for utilities, reductions under this object of expenditure are based on economies already achieved in the current biennium.

MAJOR PROGRAMME 800: ADMINISTRATION

Total reduction: $238,200

Staff ($57,800)

28. Owing to certain programmatic requirements, it is proposed that the G-7 post previously proposed for abolition under subprogramme 833 is to be redeployed to subprogramme 844 and offset by abolishing one GS post and reducing the requirements for general temporary assistance. The overall impact of these adjustments is a net reduction of $12,200, representing an increase in staff costs of $57,800 and reduction in general temporary assistance of $70,000.

Consultancy ($4,000)

29. It is proposed that consultant resources be reduced by $4,000 in subprogramme 822, as it has been decided to forego hiring an insurance consultant to assess responses to tenders for insurance coverage of risks under appendix D of the staff rules.

Travel ($30,000)

30. The overall reduction proposed under this heading amounts to $30,000: $15,000 in subprogramme 824, $5,000 in subprogramme 835 and $10,000 in subprogramme 854. These decreases will necessitate reduced travel to and attendance at meetings, both statutory and otherwise.

Other ($262,000)

31. Overtime has been reduced overall by $7,000, entailing a cutback of $5,000 in subprogramme 824 and a cutback of $2,000 in subprogramme 835. Peak workloads will be absorbed by an increase in productivity that permits the accomplishment of assignments within regular working hours.

32. It is proposed that general temporary assistance be reduced overall by $155,000. The reduction proposed in subprogramme 824 amounts to $5,000 and that in subprogramme 835 to $10,000. Subprogramme 844 and subprogramme 854 have both been reduced by $70,000 each. The implication of these reductions is that during the peak workload periods or extended periods of sick leave, temporary replacements will be limited and existing staff resources will have to be drawn on to cover the work on hand.

33. It has been proposed that resources under the acquisition of furniture and equipment be reduced by $100,000 in subprogramme 844. These savings have been obtained by reducing to an absolute minimum the funds available for the replacement of office furniture.
